Two Projects Ended Today;

Simultaneously with the termination of county commissions that the 10-woman WPA sewing project and the 68-woman countyhouse cleaning project will end today, announcement came from WPA headquarters at Columbus that the household all project will wind up Monday. The projects employ virtually all WPA women in the county.

County Commissioner O. C. McCord said the county has no funds to renew sponsorship of the three women's projects. The city however has agreed two projects scheduled to start in November which will employ 72 women until June 30.

During the interim, virtually all the women on WPA will be unemployed according to present plans. The city has agreed to employ 12 women on the household all project for 22 women. Only city residents will be eligible to work on these two projects.

18 To Be Graduated

The present household training project, in operation since early in August will hold graduation exercises Monday at the training house at 141 North Prospect street. The 18 members of the course, 15 women and three men, will be eligible for employment as maids after that date.

Those who will receive certificates are: Emma Z. Campbell, Ruth J. Desautels, Ruth J. Moore, Ruth J. Kohler, Mary Montague, Josephine E. Weiker, Ruth E. Simpkins, Anna L. LaFollette, Wanda M. Dancy, Victoria M. Cheney, Catherine E. Frank, Marie M. Egan, Mildred V. Swartz, Margaret B. Gillette, Olive M. Noggle, Dolle M. Anthony, Clara M. Metzger and Lois M. Noggle.

The members have received an eight-week course in housekeeping, including cooking, serving of meals and use of modern home appliances.

The sewing project, originally employing more than 60 women at relief headquarters on South Prospect street, was cut down July 19 to 10 women. The remainder were transferred to the countyhouse cleaning project. In the cleaning project the women scrubbed walls, floors and steps, cleaned officers and dusted out files of old records.

The sewing project was designed to provide clothing for relief clients.

Only Seven Working

Approximately seven of the women are employed in present projects which will operate until next June 30. The city's two new projects will cost the city $7,500 and WPA will pay in $37,000 in salaries to women until June 30.

The failure to get new women's projects started at the time the old ones expired was due to a misunderstanding among city, county and WPA officials, city officials said.

New projects are now under way which are employing some 130 in the rural parts of the county and 300 in the city and will continue until November. The city is planning a blanket street project to operate after that time until June 30 and County Commissioner McCord said the county is considering a new blanket road and bridge project to employ rural WPA workers until June 30.

BOMBERS BELCH DEATH ON CHINA

Most Densely Populated Cities Raked from Air and Gun-

NANKING RAIDED AGAIN

Defense Lines and Pill Boxes Around Shanghai Blasted by Dawn Attack.

By The Associated Press
SHANGHAI, Sept. 25.—Flocks of Japanese warplanes scattered new devastation and terror today in the most densely populated areas of central and south China.

Shanghai, Nanking, Canton and the Wuhan cities—Hankow, Wuchang and Yangtze—the great centers that Japan's air raiders have punished most severely all were revisited. Hundreds of non-combatant Chinese died. The bombers left widespread devastation.

A fleet of 38 Japanese bombers rising from military airbases here in a burst dawn realized the fears of Nanking's agonized populace after a rainy day's absence from Chinese capital.

In flying wedges of three Japanese bombers roared over Shanghai defense lines, blasting concrete pillboxes and driving Chinese troops below, but without telling effect.

Attack at Dawn

Air raiders returned to the Wuhan cities, central China's commercial and industrial "Chicago," 450 air-miles up the Yangtze from Shanghai before dawnbreak. Chinese officials raised yesterday's estimate of non-combatant deaths between 200 and 500, to almost 1,000.

Canton suffered several small air raids during the night and in daylight today. Most of the bombs fell near the Hankow railroad station terminus of a line used by many foreign refugees from the Wuhan cities.

The night raid on the Wuhan cities, centered mostly in Hankow, compressed appalling devastation within a 10-minute hail of explosives.

Bombs wrecked the city's power supply, compelling overworked doctors to operate in candlelight on unending streams of wounded.

Three bombs, falling close together, devastated a teeming civilian area of 200 by 150 feet wide. At least 80 flimsy dwellings crumbled like paper under the bombardment and were consumed by flames.

Steepest Casualties

The heaviest casualties were in the Wuhanmiao slum district, where stretcher-bearers seemed to bring out more dead and wounded children than adults. One bomb narrowly missed the Wesleyan Mission hospital.

In one corner of the Wuhanmiao district, 120 mangled Chinese corpses were carried past the Associated Press correspondent within 10 minutes.

Anguished men, women and children ran through the streets screaming in terror, their cries mingling with the groans of the wounded.

Bodies lay in the alley-like streets, the dead and wounded extricably mixed, until rescue corps were organized.

In one district of HanYang a single Japanese bomb killed 60 Chinese outright.

YELLOWSTONE'S BEAUTIES EYED BY ROOSEVELT

President and Wife Leave Special Train for All-Day Visit in National Park.

LAWMAKERS AT HIS SIDE

First Family Also Meets Their Daughter, Husband and Two Children.

By The Associated Press
GARDINER, Mont., Sept. 25.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt left their special train today and proceeded through Gardiner to start an all-day tour of Yellowstone National park.

The President was greeted by a crowd of several hundred at the Gardiner depot. He then headed for the mammoth Hot Springs hotel about six miles away in the park, from which he planned to start the tour.

Accompanying the President and other state officials of Montana boarded the President's train at Livingston, Mont., and rode to Gardiner where Sen. James E. Murray and Rep. James F. O'Connor also joined the party for the ride through Gardiner's decorated streets. Murray and O'Connor conferred briefly with Mr. Roosevelt before he left on the tour.

Meet Boettiger

After meeting Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger of Seattle, gold-miner and logger, the father's two children, Eleanor and Curtis, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt planned to visit the many natural formations at Mammoth.

Their motor route then carried them to Norris geysers basin and on to Fishing bridge for luncheon.

They were to return to Canyon, drive over Dunraven pass to view the buffalo herd and visit Tower fall before returning to Mammoth around 4:35 p. m.

Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt will be the guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Nichols. He is president of the Yellowstone Park Co.

In Wyoming Mr. Roosevelt yesterday promised less federal spending and struck at those who give him "lip" service to government objectives. He spoke from the platform of his train.

Instead of reviving the supreme court issue as many had forecast, he might do so at least indirectly, he talked thus far of better times, fewer people on relief, broad administration aims, electric power and other less controversial subjects.

He also told an inquirer at one stop that he hoped the United States would stay out of war.

O'Mahoney's Surprise

The presence of Sen. O'Mahoney, foe of the defeated supreme court enlargement plan in the welcome group at Cheyenne and on the President's train across the state surprised some observers. But O'Mahoney considered it the "normal" thing to do. He told inquiring newsmen he had no animosity toward Mr. Roosevelt. The latter in his half dozen talks, gave no outward indication of his feelings in that respect.

The President has described his current trip as one of inspection rather than a "campaign" tour.

Headed for Montana

After leaving Casper, Wyo., the special rolled through the wintry night toward Laurel and Livingston, Mont. Flurries of snow were in the air and the entire party changed to heavier clothing.

At Casper after a motor trip to the restored Fort Casper, the President told a railroad station audience that the campaign was a "rank and file of the people of this country, approve the objectives of their government."

HUNTER WOUNDED IN CRAWFORD CO.

Chatfield Man Struck in Head by Bullet as Squirrel Season Opens.

A Crawford county mushup caught the first casualty in the squirrel hunting season which opened today.

Russell Schlefer, 24, of Chatfield was shot in the head by a 22 caliber rifle in the hands of Donald Wake, 20, of Bucyrus and may lose an eye. The Associated Press reported. Authorities said he would be held.

Squirrels became the targets for hundreds of Ohio hunters as the season opened at dawn.

Thirty-six hunting licenses were issued in the last 24 hours at the office of Clerk of Courts Carl P. Haberman, bringing the total of permits issued to 144. That number is considerably above the amount granted last year, only 100 being issued during the month of September in 1936.

The state conservation department reported a scarcity of squirrels in general, no shortage was seen for Marion county. It was reported today by O. H. Haberman of Prospect, state game protector. The squirrel season will continue through Oct. 15, with a bag limit of four per day or eight in possession after the first day.

NOTED RADIO EVANGELIST TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

Talk by Rev. E. Howard Cadle at Chautauqua Pavilion To End Special Series of Park Meetings.

Several thousand residents of Marion and vicinity are expected to participate in Gardiner Park day tomorrow when Rev. E. Howard Cadle of Indianapolis, Ind., widely known radio evangelist, will speak at the Chautauqua pavilion. The day, sponsored by the city park commission, will mark the close of the summer park program similar days having been already staged for Lincoln and McKinley parks.

Under the commission which was reorganized this spring with W. P. Case, J. W. Harpuff and Carter M. Patton as members, extensive improvements have been made at the three parks. At Gardiner, which the public is invited to inspect tomorrow, the major improvements are re-roofing of the bandstand, re-painting of the roof of the pavilion, painting of all buildings and general improvement of the grounds, including mowing of the grass.

Rev. Cadle, with a party of five which includes his wife and son, will arrive here by airplane at 2:30 Sunday at the municipal airport, where they will be met by cars and escorted to the park by state highway patrolmen. His address is scheduled for 3 p. m.

From 2 to 3 p. m. the Harding High school band will give a concert from the stage out with Rev. Cadle singing the hymn "Did You Think to Pray?" The radio program may be heard tomorrow over WLW at noon.

Rev. Cadle has extended a personal invitation to the ministers of Marion to occupy the platform with him. Mr. Cadle said there will be chairs placed for this purpose and the park commission suggests the ministers take the platform when they enter.

The speakers for the day have been selected from all Marion churches with H. R. Allgood as chairman. Leaders are asked to present by 1 p. m. The commission has made arrangements for ample parking space and automobiles will be on hand to assist motorists in parking.

The commission has invited residents of Marion and vicinity to use the park all day for picnic or outings. For the program a loud speaking system has been donated by the D. A. Brown radio office of East Church street.

HOUSE RANSACKED AS FAMILY SLEEPS

The residence of James Mitchell at 471 Sheridan road was ransacked while members of the family were asleep early this morning, according to a report to police. Members of the family were awakened by the noise of the front door being closed and upon investigation found that the house had been entered, officers said.

Police who investigated found that entrance had been made by ripping a screen off a south basement window. The window had been forced open and the intruder was apparently leaving the house by the front door when the family was awakened, according to the report. Nothing was reported missing from the home.

RUSSIAN WOMAN SHEDS LIGHT ON PARSONS' CASE

Brooch Enclosed in Note Just Received Pointed to as Indicating She's Dealing With Actual Kidnapers.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—New light on the unsolved kidnaping of Mrs. Alice McDowell Parsons, Long Island beauty, who disappeared in company with a middle-aged man, was shed today by Anna Kopyayeva-Parsons, the Russian "mystery woman" in the case.

For the first time, the Russian woman, daughter of an estate manager for the area and partner in the sugar farm operated by the Parsons, gave a detailed description of the alleged kidnapers, whom she named as "Harry" and "Paul Jones."

A new note from the kidnapers, she said, has been received within the past three days—the sketch in a series since the first "Paul Jones" received by the husband, William Parsons, at Stony Brook last June 12 demanding $25,000 ransom.

"I know them," she said, "because one of them showed a brooch which I know belonged to Alice. She had it when she was a child. A good pearl had dropped out which made me recognize it instantly."

"Alice and I had taken a smaller pearl from around her neck and given it into this brooch. The pearl was easy to see."

The Russian immigrant, who said she had been subjected to third-degree methods "too horrible to describe" by Jones, named federal investigators of Long Island as "Harry" and "Paul Jones."

Mr. Kopyayeva-Parsons, legally married to the Russian, is a housewife in the Bronx. She said she had been married to the Russian for three years. She said she had been married to the Russian for three years. She said she had been married to the Russian for three years.

ALCATRAZ LIFER DOWNS WARDEN

Locked in Solitary Confinement After First Attack

100 CONVICTS ON STRIKE

Believed Trying To Attract Attention of Washington To Win Privileges.

By The Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Dutton E. Phillips, life term at Alcatraz federal prison, was in solitary confinement today while Warden James A. Johnston, suffering from injuries suffered when Phillips struck him down in a "one-man riot" in the prison's dining hall.

Prison officials did not reveal what further disciplinary measures would be taken against Phillips, sentenced to the San Francisco bay island penitentiary for kidnapping and bank robbery. The attack took place during Johnston's customary noonday inspection of prisoners yesterday.

Only shortly before, the warden had prepared a statement disclosing a hundred convicts had been on "strike" and had been confined to their cells since Monday.

Bleeding from head and face injuries, the warden was taken to the prison hospital but later was removed to his home adjoining the prison. Dr. George Nease said his injuries apparently were not serious.

Johnston himself telephoned a report of the assault to the department of justice in Washington and then resumed charge through Deputy Warden Edward A. Miller.

The 100 strikers, Johnston said, apparently are making an effort to draw attention to themselves and stampede the department of justice into giving them more privileges and parole.

The warden was attacked as he walked down a line of prisoners. Phillips suddenly stepped out of line behind him and felled him with a blow of his fist.

Reported Phillips kicked the warden after he was down could not be confirmed.

Guards rushed to Johnston's assistance while other guards in the dining hall rushed to the warden's aid. Johnston was taken to the prison hospital but later was removed to his home adjoining the prison. Dr. George Nease said his injuries apparently were not serious.

Harding Displays Power In 18-6 Defeat of Delaware

1,500 Watch Presidents Change Last Week's Form

Marion, Willis Battle 6-6 Until Third Period When New Harding Strength Shoves Over Two Scores.

By CHARLES HENNINGER
Star Sports Writer

DISPLAYING intermittent flashes of the fighting courage that wins football games, Harding High's Presidents last night turned in their first victory of the season by defeating the Delaware Willis gridgers, 18 to 6, in a floodlight encounter at Harding stadium.

Snapping out of the lethargy that last week saw them muffed the opener with Mt. Gilead, the Marion team excelled their opponents in all phases of the game. Some 1,500 Harding and Willis fans were on hand for the occasion and vented their enthusiasm in no light fashion.

Marion scored in the first period, and after a blocked punt was recovered back of the Harding goal line for Delaware's lone score, the teams battled on nearly even terms until late in the third period, Coach Carl Cramer's warriors turned on the steam near the finish of the third quarter to set up an offensive drive that netted the winning touchdown. Harding clinched the victory with a third touchdown coming late in the final stanza after a 45-yard scrimmage kick.

Raymond Hudson recovered a fumble that started the first successful scoring drive on the Delaware 45-yard line. A superb line attack, with Zeiler going over the goal line on a Flick's punt was blocked by Benman, who pounced on the ball behind the goal line for Delaware's lone touchdown.

Another Delaware fumble proved costly when Jack Stephenson recovered for Marion, and the Presidents passed and plunged 30 yards for the second period touchdown. The final score came late in the final quarter, Marion marching 45 yards, largely on power plays. The Presidents failed in each of their extra-point attempts, all being on line plays that were stopped short of the goal.

DODGERS EAGER TO UPSET GIANTS' HOPES FOR LEAGUE PENNANT

Galehouse Sinks Tigers, 2-1, for Indians; Reds Lose to Pirates, 8-2.

By SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Terry has his fingers crossed, Boiling Bolly' Grimes has his tongue in his cheek, and Brooklyn's drooping (but still dirty) Dodgers are ready to give their all to make history repeat for dear old Coney Island.

Anything can happen now. The Giants, sporting a 2½-game edge and seemingly headed for the National league pennant tangle in with the Dodgers in a series opening today. And the Brooklynns, woefully struggling with a nine-game losing streak, would like nothing better than to beat their heat-loved enemies right out of the picture.

The fact that the Dodgers fell over and played dead in 12 out of 17 previous starts with the Giants this year doesn't mean a thing. When Bill Terry asked "Are the Dodgers still in the league" three years ago, he started an all-time feud—and the Brooklyn beauties will never stop their hating.

There was no change in the National league picture on yesterday's program. The Giants, traveling in from the west, had the day off. The Cubs had a date with the Cardinals, but rain in St. Louis washed it out after an inning of play.

In the American league, meaning the Yankees began the polishing process on their big guns and defenses for the start of the world series less than two weeks off by losing the Red Sox, 5-1.

The win was the Yanks' 9th of the year and gave them a lead of 13 games over the second-placed Detroit Tigers, who met up with Denny Galehouse on one of his few good days of the season and were whipped 2-1 by the Cleveland Indians.

In the only other game on the program the Cincinnati Reds, looking like something out of any class D (except you can name, made four errors in one inning and were trampled by the Pirates, 8-2. Every other club in the big show had a holiday.

NOTE: THAT MOST VIOLENT SPECIES OF SPORT FAN—THE FOOTBEARING CREATURE KNOWN AS THE FOOTBALL FAN, WILL BE SEEN EARLIER THIS SEASON—SEVERAL IMPORTANT GRID GAMES ARE SCHEDULED FOR THIS WEEK-END—

That most violent species of sport addict, the football fanatic, is already preparing to start hollering, "Hold that line!"

The curious, fun-bearing creature, who wears little pennants and omit prolonged cheers at intervals, will be seen earlier than usual this season due to the fact that important September games are on tap. Usually the fuzzy-coated frog voiced football bugs hibernate until October.

The fact that the football moguls are extending their season into September isn't exactly pleasing to baseball magnates. Diamond devotees are getting set to concentrate

Ohio State, T. C. U. Scrap In Nation's Top Grid Tilt

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25.—Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, from a student body of about 800 and boasting a record of never having dropped an intercollegiate or open grid game, hoped to play the David to Ohio State's Goliath today, as they tangled at the Buckeye stadium in the country's stand-out football scrap.

The Frogs, representing a student body of about 12,000 also had a bid of first-game tradition to maintain, for since 1884 had the Ohioans finished second in an opener.

The large inaugural crowd in Ohio, history, about 75,000, was on hand for the struggle. The Frogs out-distanced by 30,000 any before which the Horned Frogs ever had appeared.

Today, there are 16 games on tap featuring Ohio or Buckeye conference eleven. The only night contests of these are at Cincinnati where Western Reserve puts its undefeated 23 game record on the block for the Bearcats and at Huntington, W. Va., where Marshall plays Salem.

Each team has had and troubles and the rival coaches sought to find the right answer to the warring problems by shifting tactics to the outside berth.

For Ohio fullback Johnny Rabb was expected to take over most of the ball-carrying chores.

Ohio's O'Brien, a 350-pounder, assumed the passing duties laid down by Baugh and he did a neat job of it in Friday's practice session. He also does the place-kicking and loomed as the man for Ohio to stop if the Frogs were to win.

BEARS CONTROL WEEK'S TRADE

Send Stocks to New Lows Untouched Since Depression Began To Lift.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Financial markets beat a disorderly retreat last week, with prices in many instances falling back to new low ground since the depression lifted.
Stocks, bonds and a long list of commodities wilted as support waned and selling forces encoached themselves more firmly in the saddle.
Efforts to rally the stock list met with only half-hearted response, and on Friday broad and active liquidation tipped over leading issues for severe losses.
Analysts generally were unable to find any outstanding news development to account for the back-slide. It was rather a combination of circumstances, they said, that tended to depress sentiment.
With some $8,000,000,000 of foreign funds in the United States, discussions between American and British officials of methods to stem the international flow of "hot money" served to arouse fears that resumption might later endanger markets generally.
Helping to accentuate the gloom, it was added, were renewed doubts that earnings and dividends could meet the climbing costs of corporation operations and that higher prices would encourage consumer resistance and make things worse.
Some of the principal eastern railroads were reported to have laid off 25,000 men because of a second year's freight shipments were up more than seasonally to a new peak for the year.
Partly offsetting a substantial drop in steel mill activities was a pickup in retail and wholesale trade and a more than expected increase in electric power consumption.

RAIL JOBS LOST BY THOUSANDS

Layoffs Effected Despite Increase in Carloadings: Higher Costs Cited.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Major railroads disclosed today they are laying off thousands of employees. The move, they said, was necessitated by higher operating and maintenance costs.

The disclosure was made when railroad executives gathered here to attend the monthly meeting of directors of the Association of American Railroads.

Loadings Increase

At about the same time the A. A. R. made public weekly statistics which showed that car loadings from January 1 through Sept. 18 totaled 28,183,369 cars, or almost 3,000,000 more than the 25,363,369 loaded in the comparable period in 1937.

Nevertheless, rail officials insisted that although this year is improved over 1937, cuts have gone up and the carriers are losing a substantial part of their proportionate share to trucks and other forms of transportation.

It was pointed out that in 1937, which was a record year for the industry, the "average figure" in the last decade, 34,295,038 cars were loaded through Sept. 18.

20,000 Are Furloughed

While no executive would make a formal statement, a series of disclosures revealed that three large eastern carriers—the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and the Baltimore & Ohio—had laid off approximately 20,000 employees since the first of this month.

Other rail heads acknowledged reduced pay rolls, but withheld figures. They emphasized, however, that a part of this reduction was seasonal in character because 1937 maintenance programs are approaching completion.

All declared that increased passenger fares and a boost in freight rates are the only solution to their problem.

PERKINS AND DAVEY ARGUE OVER STRIKE

Secretary Denies She Advised Governor To Subpoena Executives To Force Accord.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—A telephone conversation at the height of the Mahoning valley summer steel strike became a table talk for dispute between Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and Gov. Martin L. Davey.

The secretary emphatically denied having advised Gov. Davey to subpoena steel executives "and keep them there until they sign a contract," asserting:

"I never suggested to Gov. Davey that he detain the steel company executives until they signed a contract with their employees. Such a charge is ridiculous."

"My suggestion was that the governor use the power of the Ohio industrial commission to subpoena all witnesses, both employers and workers, to tell their stories under oath for the purpose of helping public officials determine the true facts of the situation."

The governor quoted Miss Perkins in a recent address at Akron Thursday night as making the subpoena statement.

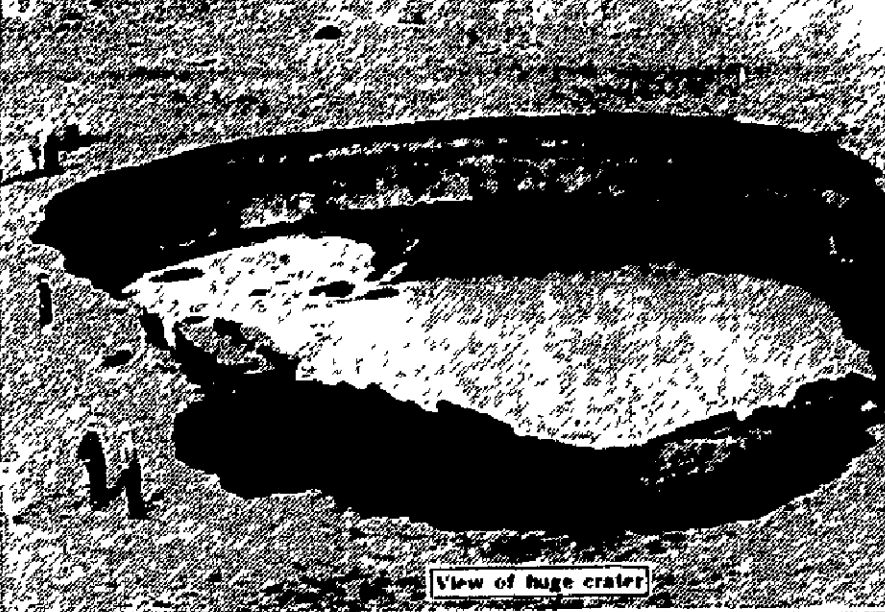

LOYAL GUNS POUND REBELS AT OVIEDO

By The Associated Press
HENDAYE, Franco — Spanish frontier, Sept. 25 — Spanish government artillery hurled a terrific bombardment into insurgent Oviedo in northern Spain today.

The government troops apparently sought to force surrender by the Oviedo garrison, under siege for 14 months, before insurgent reinforcements can reach the city.

An insurgent column is moving swiftly toward Oviedo, and today was reported less than 25 miles to the south of the Asturian capital.

3 GARR BROTHERS RELEASED ON BOND

$50,000 Required To Free Trio Pending Grand Jury Action on Oct. 4.

By The Associated Press
SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Sept. 25.—Three on bond, the three Garr brothers, accused of the slaying last Monday night of Big Game Henry Denhardt, awaited today the action of a Shelby county grand jury scheduled to convene Oct. 4.

Their bonds, totaling $50,000, were quickly executed yesterday by six Oldham county friends, after County Judge Harry F. Walters bound them over to the grand jury. The brothers—Roy, Jack and Dr. E. S. Garr—are charged with murder in warrants sworn out Tuesday, but can be prosecuted only on indictments.

Dr. Garr and Roy returned to their home near La Grange, in Oldham county. Jack Garr, 37-year-old "baby" of the trio, said he was going to his home near Cincinnati.

Judge Walters' decision to grant the brothers bail was cheered wildly by the crowd that had jammed the courtroom all day and heard Roy Garr, 45-year-old farmer and bird dog trainer, assume full responsibility for the death of the 45-year-old general, who had been indicted and once tried for the slaying of his fiancée, Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor, 40, "baby sister" of the Gars.

Describing the shooting, which occurred on this bluegrass city's almost-deserted main street as the former lieutenant governor and adjutant general of Kentucky was slaying with his attorney, Roderic K. Myers of Bowling Green, Roy Garr said:

"I saw Denhardt go for his right hip, and by God, I went for my gun. I was scared and I started shooting and didn't stop until I had emptied my gun."

Roy disputed testimony by Myers that he had fired a "coup de grace" shot into the general's back after he lay dead in the doorway of a hotel.

AVOID HOLLYWOOD SAYS MARY PICKFORD

Actress Tells Amateurs at Indianapolis Film Camp Is a Racket.

By The Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 25.—Mary Pickford, trim in modish black, stood on a table here yesterday and warned people who like to act to stay away from Hollywood.

"Hollywood," the screen actress told amateurs of the Indianapolis Civic theater, "is a racket. Stay at home if you are interested in acting."

Then she stepped down to sign the season's first membership card and to begin a campaign, she put in a good word for the little theater movement as a means of expression and leisure-time activity.

Looking backward, America's sweetheart called a movie career a "very rough road" and told her audience she sometimes was sorry she had not stayed on the stage like Helen Hayes.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 25.—Friends of dark-haired Robert Snyder, 12-year-old boy, who shot and wounded his principal, today may escape prosecution despite the fact that Snyder is a juvenile.

Both the 12-year-old boy and the boy were recovering from wounds which police believed were inflicted over the boy's desire to demonstrate to a girl schoolmate "how tough he could be."

Lieut. Ralph Murphy said police had dropped the investigation and that it now rested with juvenile authorities. This will prosecute only if the principal urges it, he said.

The sturdily built boy's friends pointed out that Miss Snyder made every effort to keep the shooting quiet.

She delayed for nearly two hours calling a doctor, although she had a bullet in her groin. The gray-haired principal telephoned, however, to her parents asking them to "talk it over" with her and make arrangements to keep the attack quiet.

School Engineer Garfield Harris said the parents told her: "We can't come now. Our boy has shot himself."

After he left the principal's office, the boy fired one shot into his head and reaching home, gave the shot to his parents.

"I made up my mind to go home and get my father's gun," the boy explained to Lieut. Murphy. "I intended to go to Miss Snyder's room, have her call Gloria Moore from class, and order her to drive us to an ice cream store and buy us ice cream cones."

"When she refused to call Gloria I became angry and fired at her. But Miss Snyder observed 'I would rather nothing more were said about it.'"

Twelve-year-old Gloria knew the boy only casually and said he was unusually bright. Police blamed his "puppy love" for the girl and a desire to emulate a radio or motion picture gangster for the shooting Thursday afternoon.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME ENDS SUNDAY

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Time will turn backward in its flight to 30,000,000 Americans at 2 a. m. Sunday.

At that hour they will cast their clocks back and regain the 60 minutes lost when daylight saving time went into effect six months ago.

The Merchants' association of New York in its annual survey reported more people observed daylight time this year than in any previous year.

COLLEGE HEAD TO INTERVIEW EACH STUDENT

DR. C. L. ANSBACH

Dr. Ansbach, president of the Ohio Association of Colleges, announced today that he will personally interview all of his students. Realizing that 50 per cent of all young people entering college have not decided upon their vocation or work of life, Dr. Ansbach decided to thus offer vocational counseling. A schedule, which is to be announced to students next week, arranges the interviews so they will be completed by Feb. 1. Dr. Ansbach is president of the Ohio Association of Colleges.

Third Term Talk Linked to Farley

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Politicians—particularly those who think President Roosevelt may seek a third term—are watching closely for official hints on President General Farley's future plans.

Some of them would regard his retirement from the cabinet, even though he retained the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee, as a tip-off that the chief executive had made up his mind not to run again despite any amount of possible urging.

If Mr. Roosevelt has any third term ideas, these men argue, he would not permit withdrawal from Washington of the man who directed his political campaigns so successfully through two Democratic national conventions and two presidential elections.

They recalled that despite recurrent criticism from some of the President's closest supporters, Farley held both the cabinet and the party posts throughout Mr. Roosevelt's first term and took only a leave of absence from the post-office department to conduct the 1936 campaign.

Farley is understood to have agreed to become president of the Pierce Arrow Motor Corp. He has delayed accepting the post, it is reported, until preparation of an SEC registration statement for a new Pierce Arrow stock issue.

In his two present positions, he has served the President as political adviser and organizer, as a cabinet member, and as "whipping boy."

LITTLE FARRELL CLASH AT BELMONT

By The Associated Press
BELMONT, Mass., Sept. 25.—Lawson Little of San Francisco, last remaining favorite in Belmont's $12,000 open tournament, matched strokes against a former open title, Johnny Farrell, today as an all-star group of the nation's top fight golfers met in the third round.

Little became the favorite with the defeat of Sam Snead at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Danny Shuster of Boston's two-time P. G. A. champion. The former amateur king was a 6-1 favorite to capture the $3,000 first money in Tuesday's final.

Schmeling Steals Beauty Show Put on for Mussolini

By The Associated Press
MUNICH, GERMANY, Sept. 25.—Max Schmeling, slayingly embarrassed in top hat and morning coat, stole the show today at a lavish beauty exhibition staged by Chancellor Hitler for the special benefit of his Italian guest, Premier Mussolini.

In deference to Il Duce's well-known appreciation of feminine beauty, Hitler had called 400 of Germany's most beautiful women to appear before Italy's head man at a gala.

A ovary of the contest stars immediately fluttered around the big heavy-weight, diverting much attention from the two heads of state.

Mussolini also had opportunity to view the Nazis' museum of decadent art, filled with what they regarded as "horrible examples" of painting and sculpture. This exhibit was opened a month ago in line with the intensified Nazi drive against non-Aryan art and tendencies.

Cummings Comments on Prison Attack

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Attorney-General Cummings said today that yesterday's outbreak at Alcatraz prison was important "only because of the injury to Warden Johnston."

Cummings, expressing gratification that the warden was not seriously injured, said in a statement that "the assault upon him was by only one of the prisoners" and added the assailant was restrained quickly by "the guards and other prisoners."

MARION YOUTH AT OHIO STATE U. CAMP

Other Students from Nearby Towns at Session.
Oliver Rowley of Marion, was one of 34 boys of the Ohio state university, new freshman class who attended "freshman camp" at Camp Alfred L. Wilson near Bellefontaine this week, according to a Columbus news report.

Those from the vicinity included Charles J. Dildine of Ashley, Richard M. Engard of Marysville, Noah C. Levering of Edson, Wilbur B. McDowell of Ashley and W. Hugh Reed of Delaware.

Thirty student and faculty leaders assisted in the program, giving the new students a glimpse of campus activities intended to prepare them for leadership in university groups. The camp is sponsored each year by the University Y M C A.

FLETCHER EXPECTS NO SPECIAL SESSION

Rep. Brooks Fletcher of Marion, the only Ohio congressman now in Washington, told The Associated Press today there is little likelihood of a special session of congress.

"There is little anticipation here that the President will convene congress in November," Fletcher said. Various newspaper reports have mentioned the possibility of the special session to consider legislation carried over from the session ended recently.

Sunday's Park Program.

ONE OF the most successful seasons in the history of Marion's parks will be brought to a notable climax Sunday with a program expected to attract thousands of people.The program will be at Garfield park with E. Howard Cull, famous radio evangelist from Indianapolis, as the speaker. Widely known and popular because of his inspiring messages over the air, his coming here will be of exceptional interest to the many who have made up his unknown audiences. The park commission has made arrangements to provide accommodations for 4,000 listeners, and with weather conditions favorable it seems certain that these preparations will not be too extensive.There will be other program features, including a concert by the Harding high school band, so that the afternoon in all details will be one of thorough enjoyment.The day will be more than one made outstanding by the especially fine program. It will serve, first of all, to call attention to the record made by the city park commission this summer in giving the parks a new place of value and importance in community affairs. This achievement has been the subject of previous comment in this column and we are pleased again to offer words of commendation. Park improvements and maintenance have been carried through in most admirable fashion and all this has been made possible by close attention and good management on the part of members of the commission.It has not been an easy undertaking, for the commission started with meager facilities and has found it necessary to stay constantly on the job to keep things moving. The city has been fortunate in having as members of the commission three public spirited citizens willing to give effort and time to the project with the realization that their only remuneration would be the satisfaction which comes from performing a worthwhile public service. For fear in mind that the commission works without pay, which makes the service all the more unusual and praiseworthy. Having this in mind, Marion people ought to go out of their way to speak a word of appreciation to the three men who have done this good work for the community. They are W. P. Case, Carter M. Patton and J. W. Harriott.

Closed Incident.

THERE was a time when an assault on a British ambassador would have brought serious consequences—a time when international affairs were less intricate, perhaps, than they are now.
Late in August, the British ambassador to China, Sir Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, was riding in an automobile from Nanjing to Shanghai. The automobile was bombed and machine gunned by aviators. Sir Hugh was wounded seriously.Great Britain protested in the good old fashioned way—vehemently. It demanded all the kinds of satisfaction there are. Thereupon, it began to await Japan's reply, for the British did not question that the aviators were Japanese.Great Britain finally got its reply this week—a tardy note which said Japan may have been at fault, that it was trying to be careful not to harm nationals of a third country and that, on the date mentioned, Japanese planes did bomb an automobile on the assumption that it contained Chinese officials.Whereupon Great Britain replied that the incident was closed. Maybe the next time it won't even mention the fact it has been insulted.

Poor Mixture.

THE 40 hour work week in France is a plank in the platform of the popular front ministry which controls the government.This minority naturally is proud of what it has done for labor. It is even more proud of the fact that it is running France.France, however, may be skeptical of its blessings. Take the 40-hour work week, for instance.Due to the fact that France is underpopulated (there is no unemployment) a rigid 40-hour week has the effect of restricting French factories to about one-third of the possible production. The effect of that is to limit profits and hold down buying power.And the effect of that is to cause capital to look for profit outside France and to cut down buying power. Wage earners are restless because they lack wherewithal to buy what they need to attain the French version of the more abundant life.Thus, the government flounders further and further into debt to make things easier for workers who are trying to mix some of the more attractive policies of socialism with the hard rule of capitalist society that enterprise must be profitable before it can pay higher wages.A few thousand miles help to give perspective to puzzles like this.A thoughtful economist has just written a hundred-page "Short History of Money." "He could write a history of ours in six words, to-wit:
"Here it is! There it goes!"—Boston Herald.

Report of National Industrial Conference Board Gives Significant Facts on Business Situation.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Probably the best source of business information of a factual character is the National Industrial Conference Board which has access to data in all lines of industry. Hence the statement it has just issued in carefully measured words concerning the business situation is especially significant.The board observes that "there are several reasons for believing we are not on the verge of another major depression" and gives among those reasons the following:"Business has not yet recovered to its normal level. There is evidence of a long-term upward movement in building. Stocks of raw materials and manufactured goods do not appear excessive. No serious recession has previously occurred under these conditions."There are some factors which the board frankly says may suggest "the possibility of a further decline in business activity" and these include:"1. The abnormal labor situation, coupled with sharply rising labor costs."2. The practical certainty that the government will attempt to increase further its regulation of private business."3. The probability that an additional rise in taxes will become necessary."Now, as for what has been happening, the board says industrial activity on the whole "declined slightly" in August, and, were it not for the high level of production maintained in the automobile, iron, and steel and electric power industries, the average would have been lower because of the decline in transportation activity and retail trade.Incidentally, the auto industry is going along in good fashion with a 49 per cent increase in August, 1937, over the corresponding month in 1936, and activity has really reached, aside from seasonal considerations, "the highest point for any month since October, 1929."Construction lists When we look at construction, we find a 11.3 drop from the July level and a figure only 3.6 per cent higher than a year ago in contracts awarded. There is a better gain shown, about 6 per cent, in private residential building.While the heavy industries seem to be using a lot of electric power and steel ingot production was higher than in any August in the history of the industry, the armament situation abroad probably had much to do with it, though a heavy demand is reported from the canning, farm equipment, and petroleum industries, with a lag from the railroad and construction industries which usually use plenty of steel.What is most disappointing is the decline during August in the field of distribution and retail trade. The most substantial losses, according to the conference board data, occurred in the five and ten cent stores and variety stores, but "the drop in other divisions was also decisive."It is most significant that "since the recovery peak of February, the dollar value of department store sales has declined 4 per cent while the physical volume has receded 6 per cent."This would seem to indicate that advancing prices are meeting with some consumer resistance and that, if labor costs continue to forceprices upward, the public will be buying less. This, in turn, produces a slowing up in the wholesale house and finally the manufacturing industries begin to lay off workmen. All the Wagner acts in the world will not make five days of work when there is only enough for two days or three.Indeed, the trouble with the whole new deal scheme of planned economy is that it never really plans. It allows instead any one group to throw the whole economic system out of balance by arbitrary demands irrespective of economic justification.It's the same trouble in the distinction counties, where planned economy can be more effectively imposed, because the people there are represented and their liberties are taken from them, so, from a purely mechanical standpoint, price control is simpler to operate. Yet, from Cordell Hull, secretary of state in the Roosevelt administration, came last week this statement in one of his speeches:

Hull's Views Recalled

"The broad unsolved economic problem of distribution is how to find customers to enable the machinery of production to operate continuously and fully, economically and profitably. Our modern civilization definitely has within it the grasp the productive means and resources for supplying the material needs of mankind on a standard of living never yet attained. But production continues to fall short, at times tragically short, of its possibilities, and we are still far from achieving a world of contented people."Mr. Hull points out further that restriction policies all over the world have curtailed consumption and hoarded industry. He assails economic nationalism and economic isolation, which, he says, "when carried to their logical end, require complete control of production, and prices, regimentation and dictatorship."Mr. Hull, who in perhaps the most outstanding statesman in America today, discreetly avoids mention of the domestic policies of the new deal which are gradually curtailing production and threatening to bring more unemployment. But his main argument, namely that restrictions and barriers to external trade must be broken down, applies equally well to restrictions that bring high prices and stagnate the exchange of goods within a country.The outlook is for more inflation by continuous increase in government borrowing for more price raises. The conference board points out there is room for more of the recovery movement.The truth is we have not yet replaced the many things which were lost in seven years of depression since 1929. There would be a much better feeling in industry and business today were it not for the alarm being felt by business men that, half the time, the Roosevelt administration doesn't know what it is doing and has no plan or purpose, but to drift along and trust to luck to balance the budget and take care of high labor costs.Opportunism in Washington and pessimism outside are not a happy combination, but maybe the temporary recession will open the eyes of the administration that, when the next depression does come, they will not have a President Hoover to blame, but will have to face the charge of culpability themselves.

A Bit of Comparison

Neutrality Act Viewed as Having About Same Status as Prohibition Law Before Repeal.

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The neutrality act these days is in about the same status as the prohibition act in the years immediately before repeal.Nearly everybody was for abolition of the saloon and its attendant evils, but many, including the heads of government, came to the conclusion that prohibition merely substituted the speakeasy for the saloon and developed a whole new set of "attendant evils."Now nearly everybody is for staying out of war and for avoiding its attendant evils, but many, including apparently the heads of government, have concluded that the neutrality act won't keep us out of war and that, if applied, it would bring on a whole new set of "attendant evils."Head Letter Before repeal you could stand in the offices of some federal and state enforcement agencies and hear the clinking of glasses in the "speakeasy" a few doors distant. Prohibition agents would sit around the office hoping their pay wouldn't be topped off, and occasionally would dash off into the hills and knock over a still they had known about for many months but which had been "saved up" for a time when a raid was necessary to satisfy the Anti-Saloon league.In Shanghai, agents of the department of state can hear Japanese and Chinese shells, see bombing planes overhead, and watch columns of ambulances hauling off civilians wounded in air raids. But the law enacted to cover such situations is not enforced.The neutrality act, which automatically goes into effect upon the "outbreak of war," and imposes mandatory embargoes on war equipment, has been voided by the simple process of refusing to recognize there is war.Furthermore, Secretary of State Hull made it clear in his speech addressed internationally for the national peace conference that sofar as Japan and China are concerned, he expects the act to remain a dead letter. Evidently only some formidable circumstance like a declaration of war by one of the countries would impel him to ask the President to invoke the act.His reason: It won't promote peace.The neutrality act is an "isolationist" act, and, says Secretary Hull, "any nation which completely fails to show interest in and to give support for the existence of international order would lose its influence for peace."This country must promote peace by avoiding isolation, says Hull, or war will spread so widely that even isolation won't be safe.
What as the prohibitions looked over an occasional still to comfort the drunk, the government now orders its own merchant vessels out of China and issues an occasional "trade at your own risk" warning to mollify the isolationists.

Foreign Trade Booster

Secretary Hull Centers Attention on Concluding Reciprocal Treaties Which Now Number 17Everybody talks about foreign trade, but no one knows anything about it, except that it's important and that Secretary of State Hull has a definite policy which he has been putting into effect.
The following article, republished from the Baltimore Evening Sun, enables the reader to see through the eyes of a skillful interpreter what Secretary Hull is trying to do.

By PHILIP WAGNER

THE object of the visit was to talk with Mr. Cordell Hull, the secretary of state, about foreign trade.The gist of an hour's talk was that Mr. Hull is very much in favor of it.The secretary occupies a compact, homely sort of office. In the middle of it stands a large desk with a lot of papers, buzzers and telephones on it. The windows look out on the park, but they are closed because the secretary enjoys the privacy of personal air conditioning.Around the walls are some steel engravings and some plaster plaques. At one side of the room stands a hand-some old grandfather's clock.And directly behind the secretary's desk chair,
flanked on one side by the Stars and Stripes and on the other side
by the flag of the department of state, towers a huge and luxurious rubber plant.Secretary Hull rose from his desk and offered a pleasant greeting. He is tall and square, yet his fairness seemed as nothing compared with that of the magnificent rubber plant which gloomed skyward in the background.
He smiles slowly, and his gaze is direct.His speech is unhurried rather than slow, and lacks the drawl which one associates with the mountainous district of Tennessee where he was born and grew up.
He was born in a little town named Olympus, but there is nothing Olympian in his manner; he strikes one as being entirely without affection—a grave and courteous man, preoccupied with his work and totally oblivious of the rubber plant which towers above him.But though his speech betrays little of his Tennessee origin, it is necessary to understand this Tennessee background in order to place him correctly in the American political scene. A story is told of Mr. Hull's father, which may help to sketch in this background.His quarter of a century in congress was one long exposition of his economic creed. His passion for low tariffs was such that congressmen who thought otherwise shuddered and tried to sink away at his approach. In 1892, he entered the senate sworn to avenge the wrongs done by the notorious Smoot-Hawley tariff, enacted during the terms of President Hoover.He held merely that the tariff had injured the country, but that it was one of the principal factors in bringing about the collapse of international relations, particularly those relations having to do with trade, which was a characteristic of the depression.Mr. Hull was not fated to carry on his fight in the senate. Instead, he was offered the position of secretary of state in Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet. He resigned, and took this position.Secretary Hull's membership in the cabinet struck a good many people as being incongruous. Whatever one may think of the reforms on which President Roosevelt and the new dealers embarked, there is no denying that they don't jibe with the austere and self-reliant liberalism which Mr. Hull has always preached.This is certainly true of the domestic reforms of the new deal. It is less likely of some of the new deal's ventures into foreign affairs.
It is no secret that President Roosevelt's decision to go off gold though it was made virtually inevitable by Great Britain's previous devaluation, was a blow to Mr.
Hull. It was this act which killed the London economic conference; and Secretary Hull had pinned so much faith on that conference that he had led the American delegation in person.Attains His Goal The inconsistency between Secretary Hull's professions and President Roosevelt's acts made the outlook for Secretary Hull's incumbency seem pretty grim. To the campaign for reciprocal trade treaties which he soon launched gave him an opportunity to work within the administration for precisely these ends which he had always sought.He has concluded so far that these reforms and each one of them has driven a hole through the high American tariff and helped to free foreign trade from

In New York

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—This is the first time I've tried to step out in evening clothes. And I don't know when. In the interim, the full dress suit is now called "white tie and tails." I had claws I'd have a guy named Hunter or something with a dead pan to lay out my things.But no, I have to do everything myself—high derriere shirt was from a certain lot, peeking over my shoulder. During this "let off," too, the one-way evening shirt has become a out-moded as one of those steel spring duhickies to hike up the coat lapels.This outfit has been in the moth balls so long it smells a bit gamey. I'll probably find a narrower neck in an off sleeve and a rest new in the coat just about where the suspenders cross. In fact it wouldn't surprise me to find a two-tied cloth hanging to a seam.But the way I feel just so a bat doesn't fly, or and a arm into one of my spells. I'm a tangle to bust. Oh definitely. The last time was vicarious with a bat. I talked in fluster, it takes like Ed Wynn and twitched for a week.And, of course, my collar. I like the great appeal of a wing collar. It gives the Adams apple pleasant pasturage. But my supply of collars for evening seems to have taken on a surminal tinge—a bit of the sere and yellow.
About three shades lighter than Aunt Agatha's jaundice. But I can't send laundry out to the Chinaman this time of day and get it back on time.Lucius Beebe, than whom there is none more whom in white tie and tails, is the last. He dresses as well as in full dress finery, in having the bow ends stand out just so. One may say all the is no seas quot of a Jack Buchanan for the meticulous niceties of after dark haberdashery, but just let one die and appear droopy and you are back there in Asot die days with the Bloomer Girls. Just thinking about it, it makes me edgy.
Imagine appearing at wherever I'm going with one tie end off balance. I couldn't bear it. Think what the boys would say at The Raquet and at the Hamptons. I'd never live it down. I can hear them now in after years as I titter by, with all the dogs barking and the children peering "There goes Old Willy Tis, yawn, yawn, yawn."It has always seemed a pity—indeed two pities and a sigh—that some Brummel-minded genius has not perfected a hook-on-the-kind that will be all the go for evening. At heart I'm a hook tie boy. In my adolescent years with bear grease on my hair and a squirt of vanilla on my mandercheril, I'd often feature one of those grass green or fiery red bows one bought off a card.

MARION BOOKS DRAMA OF NAVY

"Wings Over Honolulu" To Open Sunday With "A Lawman Is Born."

Wendy Barrie and Ray Milland are the leading roles in the drama, "Wings Over Honolulu," which will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion on a double bill with a Johnny Mack Brown action picture, "A Lawman Is Born."

Supporting roles in "Wings Over Honolulu" are taken by Kent Taylor, William Gargan and Polly Rowles. The picture presents a story of navy life which has been approached by previous screenplays concerned with America's sea forces. It tells the story of a navy wife who suddenly finds herself separated in the gay whirlwind of a tropical life in a tropical station and reveals how the critical nature of gossip and the language of the South Seas can try men's souls and wreck women's lives.

"When Thief Meets Thief," booked for Tuesday and Wednesday with "Dangerous Number," stars Douglas Fairbanks Jr., with Marie Hobson and Alan Hale in principal supporting roles. The Fairbanks picture was made in England, with the star playing a "human fly" burglar which gives him a role similar to those created by his famous father. When a man is accidentally killed in a battle, Fairbanks is convinced it is the murderer and he is forced to commit a series of daring and sensational robberies. Robert Young, Ann Southern, Reginald Owen and Cora Witherspoon play the principal roles in "Dangerous Number," a comedy of marital quarrels at the rate of one a minute, a marriage the legality of which is complicated by daylight saving time, chases with gangsters and mysterious meetings with a beautiful charmer.

Warner Oland creates another of his famous detective roles in "Charlie Chan at the Opera," which will be shown Thursday through Saturday. Boris Karloff is co-starred, the first time the two have appeared together. Keys Luke and Charlotte Henry head the cast of supporting players. The picture goes with the murder of an insane asylum guard by Karloff, an inmate, whose warped mind recognizes a picture of his wife in a newspaper. Bent on vengeance, Karloff completes his escape and goes to the theater where his wife

"Souls at Sea," Based on Historic Trial, To Be Shown Through Tuesday.

"Souls at Sea," the Palace attraction through Tuesday, starting today, is the motion picture treatment of the famous trial of "Nugget" Taylor, sea captain of the "S.S. Blue Bird," who was accused of manslaughter on the high seas, not only by most of the survivors, but also by his sweetheart, whose role in the film version of the drama is played by Frances Dee.

George Raft plays the role of the hard-boiled mate of the vessel who would follow his captain to the grave.

The supporting cast is headed by Henry Wilcoxon, Harry Carey, Oliver Brads, Harry Cummings and Porter Hall. Agnes Ayres will appear on the same bill.

famous beauty of the silent screen and leading lady with Rudolph Valentino when he made the now historic, "The Sheik," returns to the screen in this picture, "Flight from Glory," featuring Chester Morris and Whitney Bourne, former New York stage player. Van Hedlin and Onslow Stevens have other featured roles.

An aviator's courageous attempt to save the life of a weakling whose wife he secretly loves is depicted. The story chronicles the adventures of a group of renegade fliers of a South American airline.

The new Bobby Bren picture, "Take a Walk," will be shown Thursday and Friday. On the same bill will be a reissue of the four-reel Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Robunk."

Basil Rathbone, Marion Clare, Henry Armetta, Leon Errol of the rubber knees and Donald Meek play important parts in the Bren picture.

Bobby has the role of the son of a famous opera star. He meets Rathbone, a composer who is at work on an opera. The boy's mother, Miss Clare, comes to visit him and she and Rathbone fall in love. The story moves along, hitting its high point when the third act of the opera is lost and the composer disappears. The boy and his mother supply the missing act and stage the show, to which Rathbone is drawn on the opening night.

The new Bing Crosby comedy with music, "Double or Nothing," will open on Saturday. Mary Carlisle, who appeared with Crosby in his first starring picture, "College Rhythm," is back as his leading lady. The cast also includes Martha Raye, Andy Devine and William Frawley.

A new type orchestra makes its appearance, a "big band," composed entirely of human voices. Ring croons to it and people dance to it. The band is led by Harry Barris who, with Crosby, was one of the original "Rhythm Boys."

The story is about a freak who that promises a million dollars if either Crosby, Devine, Frawley or Miss Raye, leaders of "planted" purser, can double $5,000 in 30 days.

WAR ROMANCE ON OHIO BILL

"Love Under Fire," Starring Loretta Young, Don Ameche. Now Being Shown.

The current attraction at the Ohio, "Love Under Fire," a romantic adventure story starring Loretta Young and Don Ameche, will be followed on Tuesday by a new comedy with music, "Sing and Be Happy," and on Friday by Ray Francis' new starring picture, "Confession."

Set against a background of Spanish war, "Love Under Fire," ignores the spatter of shells and concerns itself with romance. In the swift-moving story is a frightened girl, Miss Young, fleeing madly about Europe to evade capture and imprisonment for a crime she mistakenly believes she has committed. A Scotland Yard detective, Ameche, pursues her as a criminal until he discovers facts which clear up everything. Meanwhile they find themselves in the midst of still greater danger. The foreign city is bombarded from the air and troops move in on a rampage, blasting a bank in search of jewels of high value. An officer, learning that an English-speaking girl has been taken in the game, arrests Miss Young. In endeavoring to escape from the country Miss Young and Ameche are pursued by a foreign officer who is threatened with death by the firing squad unless he recovers the jewels. Mad dashes follow mad dashes until a series of situations bring the climax.

Mingling in all the dramatic events are Borrah Minnevillech and his gang, lending touches of comedy and music. Frances Drake, Walter Catlett, John Carradine, Sig Ruman and Harold Huber are the cast.

Anthony Martin, who made his screen debut less than a year ago, has his first romantic lead in "Sing and Be Happy," in which he is featured with Leah Ray, Joan Davis, Helen Westley, Allen Lano and Dixie Dunbar.

Rivalry between two advertising agencies seeking to land a large radio account forms the background, with Martin as a barnstorming orchestra leader who is persuaded by his father, Barton Churchill, to enter his advertising firm. Churchill and Andrew Tombs head rival agencies, angling for the pickle account controlled by irascible Miss Westley. Tombs' daughter is Miss Ray and therein lies the romance.

Basil Rathbone, suave player, has the role of a Vienna roue in the Ray Francis starring vehicle. The picture was adapted from the European play "Marurkar." The story concerns a famous opera singer who kills her betrayer in order to save from ruin her young daughter whom he is leading toward the fate of the mother. Rathbone plays the scoundrel, Jane Bryan is the daughter, Ian Hunter is her husband, a war hero.
